

strandbooks.com

Tuesday, May 27
7:00PM

Walter Mosley and Mike Farrell in Conversation

The Nation, The Center for Constitutional Rights and Akashic Books present a dialogue between best-selling author Walter Mosley and television star Mike Farrell ("M*A*S*H," "Desperate Housewives"). With the 2008 presidential election looming, Mosley and Farrell will discuss literature, human rights, American politics... and their new books, The Tempest Tales and Just Call Me Mike: A Journey to Actor and Activist, respectively. The discussion will be moderated by Michael Ratner, adjunct professor of law at Columbia University and president of the Center for Constitutional Rights, a non-profit human rights litigation organization based in NYC.

Can't make this event? PRE-ORDER a signed copy of the book at strandbooks.com/calendar and WATCH the event LIVE on strandbooks.com/tv

Strand Book Store

828 Broadway @ 12th Street, NYC

(212) 660-6643

For more information about upcoming events at Strand:

www.strandbooks.com/calendar