

Bigwood v. DOD, CIA

Case No. 1:11-cv-602-KBJ

Vaughn Index by USSOUTHCOM

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 1-2	Situation Report [hereinafter SITREP]	Military Group [hereinafter MILGRP] MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	29-Jun-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	United States Southern Command [hereinafter USSOUTHCOM]		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 3-4	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	30-Jun-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 5-8	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	1-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is withheld on the basis of Exemption (b)(6). The withheld material consist of names of DoD personnel. Release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of an individual mentioned in the redacted material, in that the individual would likely suffer negative repercussions if information identifying him or her were to be disclosed. The individual's privacy interest outweighs any public interest in disclosure. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(6).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 9-11	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	2-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(6). The withheld material consist of names of DoD personnel. Release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of an individual mentioned in the redacted material, in that the individual would likely suffer negative repercussions if information identifying him or her were to be disclosed. The individual's privacy interest outweighs any public interest in disclosure. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(6).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 12-14	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	3-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(5). The information is protected from release because it represents the assessment of U.S. military leadership in Honduras concerning the sensitive political dynamics of a politically unstable and rapidly changing country. The information informed deliberations of the U.S. military leadership at USSOUTHCOM concerning potential military courses of action and likelihood of resumed military-to-military engagement with Honduras. Releasing the information would have a predictable chilling effect on U.S. relations with Honduras and would jeopardize the free and frank exchange of information between USSOUTHCOM and its subordinate overseas components.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 15-16	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	4-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 17-18	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	5-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 19-20	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	6-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 21-22	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	7-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 23-24	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	8-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 25-26	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	9-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 27-29	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	10-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 30-32	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	11-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 33-34	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	12-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 35-37	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	13-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 38-40	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	14-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 41-43	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	15-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 44-46	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	16-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 47-49	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	17-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 50-52	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	18-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions," and Exemption (b)(7)(D), which permits withholding of information release of which could reasonably be expected to disclose the identity of a confidential source.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 53-55	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	19-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Release
SOUTHCOM 56-58	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	20-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Release
SOUTHCOM 59-61	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	21-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions," and Exemption (b)(7)(D), which permits withholding of information release of which could reasonably be expected to disclose the identity of a confidential source.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 62-64	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	22-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 65-67	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	23-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 68-70	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	24-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 71-73	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	25-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 74-76	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	26-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 77-79	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	27-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions." Additionally, information was withheld under Exemption (b)(6). Release of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of U.S. government personnel.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 80-82	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	28-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 83-85	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	29-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 86-88	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	30-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions." Additionally, information was withheld under Exemption (b)(6). Release of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of U.S. government personnel.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 89-91	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	31-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(5). The information is protected from release because it represents the assessment of the U.S. Ambassador in Honduras concerning the sensitive political dynamics of a politically unstable and rapidly changing country. The information informed deliberations of the U.S. military leadership at USSOUTHCOM concerning potential military courses of action and likelihood of resumed military-to-military engagement with Honduras. Releasing the information would have a predictable chilling effect on U.S. relations with Honduras and would jeopardize the free and frank exchange of information between USSOUTHCOM and its subordinate overseas components. Additionally Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 92-93	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	1-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 94-96	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	2-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 97-99	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	3-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions." Additionally, information was withheld under Exemption (b)(6). Release of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of U.S. government personnel.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 100-102	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	4-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 103-105	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	5-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 106-108	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	6-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions." Additionally, information was withheld under Exemption (b)(6). Release of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of U.S. government personnel.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 109-111	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	7-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 112-114	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	8-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 115-117	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	9-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 118-120	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	10-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions." Additionally, information was withheld under Exemption (b)(6). Release of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of U.S. government personnel.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 121-123	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	12-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 124-126	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	13-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 127-128	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	16-Aug-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 129-130	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	22-Sep-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 131-132	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	23-Sep-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 133-134	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	24-Sep-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 135-136	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	26-Sep-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 137-138	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	27-Sep-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM1 39-140	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	29-Sep-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 141-142	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	30-Sep-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(5). The information is protected from release because it discusses pre-decisional military planning activities concerning potential military courses of action. Releasing the information would have a predictable chilling effect on U.S. relations with Honduras and would jeopardize the free and frank exchange of information between USSOUTHCOM and its subordinate overseas components. Additionally, Exemption (b)(7)(E) permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 143-144	SITREP	MILGRP-Honduras Daily Sitrep	1-Oct-09	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions."	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 145-148	Intelligence Assessment	(S) Honduras: Who Authorized Zelaya's Removal from the Country?	16-Oct-09	SECRET/NOFORN	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Additionally information is withheld under Exemption (b)(6). The withheld material consist of names of DoD personnel. Release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of an individual mentioned in the redacted material, in that the individual would likely suffer negative repercussions if information identifying him or her were to be disclosed. The individual's privacy interest outweighs any public interest in disclosure. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(6). The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information properly classified under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. DIA also withheld the countries and international organizations which DIA shared intelligence with. The release of the countries that DIA shared this specific intelligence with could compromise intelligence sharing agreements we have with these governments and may hinder our relations with other nations which we did not share the intelligence with.	Partial Denial
							(Continuation) The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.
SOUTHCOM 149-151	Intelligence Assessment	(U) Honduras: National Elections	30-Oct-09	SECRET/NOFORN	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Additionally, information is withheld under Exemption (b)(6). The withheld material consist of names of DoD personnel and other foreign government information. Release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of an individual mentioned in the redacted material, in that the individual would likely suffer negative repercussions if information identifying him or her were to be disclosed. The individual's privacy interest outweighs any public interest in disclosure. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(6). The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 152-154	Intelligence Assessment	Who removed President Zelaya and Why?	Undated	SECRET	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding properly classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 155-158	Articles	(U) Honduras	Undated	UNCLASSIFIED	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 159-176	Slide Presentation	HND - Zelaya Heightens Political Tensions	Undated	SECRET//NOFORN	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 177-220	Slide Presentation	Mission Analysis: Potential Support to DOS in Honduras	1-Jul-09	SECRET	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by hindering current and future plans and operations and would clearly place in jeopardy the safety of our troops as well of our allies. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertains to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 221-231	Joint Task Force Bravo Logs	Not Titled	From 4 Jul 09 to 9 Jul 09	UNCLASSIFIED	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(6). The withheld material consist of names of DoD personnel. Release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of an individual mentioned in the redacted material, in that the individual would likely suffer negative repercussions if information identifying him or her were to be disclosed. The individual's privacy interest outweighs any public interest in disclosure. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(6).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 232-251	Slide Presentation	Honduras :Zelaya Exile"	28-Jun-09	UNCLASSIFIED	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(3) and is exempted from disclosure by federal statute, specifically: 10 U.S.C. 130 to withhold unclassified technical data with the military or space application; 10 U.S.C. 130c to withhold certain sensitive information of foreign governments and international organizations. Additionally, Exemption (b)(6). The withheld material consists of names of DoD personnel. Release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of an individual mentioned in the redacted material, in that the individual would likely suffer negative repercussions if information identifying him or her were to be disclosed. The individual's privacy interest outweighs any public interest in disclosure. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(6). Additionally information is withheld under Exemptions (b)(7)(E) and (b)(7)(F). The withheld material consist of foreign government information. Release of the foreign government information could reasonably be expected to damage the relations between our government and our counterparts and could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law and endanger the life of physical safety of any individual. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(7)(E) and (b)(7)(F).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 252-253	Points	San Jose 12-Point Accord	Undated	UNCLASSIFIED	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 254-272	Slide Presentation	Honduras (HND) PMSEII Overview	5-Aug-09	SECRET	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1), as this information pertains to foreign government information. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to our relations with a foreign government. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. Non-responsive information is being withheld from release under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c), this information is outside the scope of the request. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1), as this information pertains to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 273-275	Intelligence Assessment	(S) Honduras: San Jose Accords; Substance or Symbolic?	3-Aug-09	SECRET/NOFORN	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities, intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, the details of a particular foreign operation, and diplomatic relations. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Additionally information is withheld under Exemption (b)(6). The withheld material consist of names of DoD personnel and other foreign government information. Release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of an individual mentioned in the redacted material, in that the individual would likely suffer negative repercussions if information identifying him or her were to be disclosed. The individual's privacy interest outweighs any public interest in disclosure. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(6). In addition, release of the foreign government information would cause damage between our government and our counterparts by directly affecting our diplomatic relations. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding and protecting under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) information that is properly classified. Additionally, the Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding under Exemption (b)(6) information that if released, would constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of individuals who were the subject of an investigation. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 276	Points	San Jose 12-Point Accord*	31-Jul-09	SECRET/NOFORN	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 277	Condensed version of an Intelligence Report	Intelligence	25-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information; intelligence activities, intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods, would compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community, and could undermine diplomatic relations. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(b) and section 1.4(c). Release of this information could undermine both intelligence gathering and diplomatic relations. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 278	Condensed Bio on Major General Romeo Orlando Vasquez Velasquez	Major General Romeo Orlando VASQUEZ Velasquez Honduran Chief of the Joint Staff	Jan-05	UNCLASSIFIED//FOUO	USSOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document contains information that is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(6). The withheld material consist of names of DoD personnel. Release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of an individual mentioned in the redacted material, in that the individual would likely suffer negative repercussions if information identifying him or her were to be disclosed. The individual's privacy interest outweighs any public interest in disclosure. The information accordingly is exempt under Exemption (b)(6).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 279	Condensed Bio on Major General Romeo Orlando Vasquez Velasquez	MG Romeo VASQUEZ Velasquez Chief of the Joint Staff (CHOD), Honduras	Jan 05	CONFIDENTIAL//NOFORN	USSOUTHCOM	DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Department of State is withholding information under Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to a particular agency personality comment. The disclosure of this information could be expected to undermine diplomatic relations. The withheld portion of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 280-298	Slide Presentation	Honduras (HND) PMSEII Overview	1-Oct-09	SECRET	USSOUTHCOM	DoS; DIA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1), as this information pertains to foreign government information. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to our relations with a foreign government. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. Non-responsive information is being withheld from release under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c), this information is outside the scope of the request. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1), as this information pertains to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest.	Partial Denial
299-317							Error on page account. No documents missing within these 18 pages.
SOUTHCOM 318-325	Department of State telegram	Honduran Coup Timeline	022012Z JUL 09	UNCLASSIFIED//FO UO	Department of State	DOS	The Department of State (DoS) conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The classification of this document was upgraded by DoS. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by releasing foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court. The release of this information would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. DoS considers the withheld portions of information within this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 326-332	Open Source Document	FYI - Venezuela: Chavez Says Honduras	28-Jun-09	UNCLASSIFIED	SOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release
SOUTHCOM 333-372	Open Source Document	United States Southern Command Headline News	1-Jul-09	UNCLASSIFIED	SOUTHCOM		USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 373-382	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	14-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 383-392	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	15-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 393-400	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	14-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS STRATCOM	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 401-409	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	14-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA, NSA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertains to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains current and future operations, to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 410-413	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	13-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Department of State upgraded the classification of their information within this document. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. DoS considers the withheld portions of information within this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 414-428	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	12-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, STRATCOM, USCG ICC	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c). In particular, the withheld information pertains to the oversight of intelligence activities (including special activities) and details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 429-436	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	13-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure., and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 437-449	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	13-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 450	Intelligence Quad Chart	Intelligence	25-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertains to foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains current and future operations, to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c). Information pertains to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources or methods. In particular, the withheld information pertains to the oversight of intelligence activities and details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 451-461	Slide Presentation	Honduras Country Overview	Undated	UNCLASSIFIED	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release of responsive information

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 462-472	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	6-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, DEA, NSA, AFOSI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 473-478	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	7-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). This information relates to intelligence assessments. Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 479-487	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	8-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 488-497	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	9-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA, ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure., and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 498-507	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	3-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 508-519	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	5-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. Additionally, the document contains information protected by statute. 10 U.S.C. § 130b protects personal identifying information regarding any member of the armed forces assigned to an overseas unit, or a routinely deployable unit. The release of this information would constitute and unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of U.S. government personnel and would not shed any light on the information requested. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 520-532	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	6-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Additionally, we are protecting the release of the identity of a confidential source and disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigation or prosecutions under FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(D) and (b)(7)(E). The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 533-540	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	7-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 541-550	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	8-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 551-561	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	2-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 562-575	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	5-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, STRATCOM	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 576-583	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	14-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c). In particular, the withheld information pertains to the oversight of intelligence activities and details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). This information relates to intelligence assessments. Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 584-592	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	15-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, DEA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 593-600	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	2-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). This information relates to intelligence assessments. Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 601-606	Intelligence Report	Intelligence Highlights	23-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 607-613	Intelligence Report	Intelligence Highlights	25-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 614-616	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	11-Dec-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Department of State upgraded the classification of their information within this document. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. DoS considers the withheld portions of information within this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. §424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 617-620	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	17-Dec-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. §424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 621-625	Intelligence Report	Intelligence Highlights	17-Dec-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, STRATCOM	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 626-629	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	11-Jan-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 630-632	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	20-Jan-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertains to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources or methods and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 633-637	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	28-Jan-10	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release of responsive information
SOUTHCOM 638-643	Intelligence Report	Intelligence Highlights	22-Feb-10	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, FBI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release of responsive information
SOUTHCOM 644-648	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	26-Feb-10	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, STATE, ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertains to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources or methods and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 649-660	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	1-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 661-668	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	31-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 669-672	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	7-Dec-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertains to foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 673-680	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	30-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NGA, FBI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 681-684	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	9-Dec-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources or methods and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 685-690	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	22-Jan-10	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources, and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 691-695	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	1-Dec-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 696-706	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligene Executive Highlights	30-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA, NORTHCOM	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 707-717	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligene Executive Highlights	29-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, ONI, NSA, FBI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure; 10 U.S.C. 130b to withhold personally identifying information of personnel stationed overseas, in a sensitive unit, or in a readily deployable unit, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b) and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Release of foreign government information provided in confidence, either voluntarily or by order of court, would cause foreign officials to believe that U.S. officials are not able or willing to observe the confidentiality expected in such interchanges. Governments could reasonably be expected to be less willing in the future to furnish information important to the conduct of U.S. foreign relations, and in general less disposed to cooperate with our government in the achievement of foreign policy objectives of common interest. Furthermore, the inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 718-730	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	28-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 731-740	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	27-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 741-750	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	24-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, ONI, NORTHCOM, EUCOM	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 751-762	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	22-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NORTHCOM, EUCOM	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; foreign government information; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 763-772	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	23-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 773-782	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	21-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 783-792	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	20-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Additionally, this document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions." The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 793-803	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	17-Jul-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 804-812	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	15-Jun-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 813-821	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	16-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c). In particular, the withheld information pertains to the oversight of intelligence activities and details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to information exempted from disclosure by section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 822-833	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	16-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, JTF-GTMO	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 834-838	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	17-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	CIA, CIA, DOS, NGA, ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). This information relates to intelligence assessments. Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 839-843	Intelligence Report	Intelligence Highlights	2-Dec-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 844-854	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	18-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 855-865	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	31-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 866-875	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	20-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 876-888	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	30-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NGA, USCG ICC	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. Additionally, this document contains information that is protected from release under Exemption (b)(7)(E), which permits withholding of information release of which would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. By citing this exemption we're withholding "Force Protection Conditions." The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 889-897	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	20-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS FBI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 898-902	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	20-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release of responsive information
SOUTHCOM 903-906	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	30-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 907-917	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	30-Jun-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA, PACOM	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). This information relates to intelligence assessments. Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 918-926	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	21-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). This information relates to intelligence assessments. Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 927-937	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	29-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA, ONI, NSA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 938-945	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	21-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 946-957	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	9/29/2009	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA, USCG ICC, NGIC	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c). In particular, the withheld information pertains to the oversight of intelligence activities and details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 958-962	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	23-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release of responsive information

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 963-973	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	28-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NGA, ONI	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c). In particular, the withheld information pertains to the oversight of intelligence activities and details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 974-984	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	28-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13256. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 985-991	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	28-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 992-998	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	23-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c). In particular, the withheld information pertains to the oversight of intelligence activities and details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Exemption 3 also applies to certain information withheld under 10 U.S.C. 424, which was applied to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 999-1001	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	9-Nov-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). This information relates to intelligence assessments. Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 1002-1009	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	1-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 1010-1012	Intelligence Report	(U) Honduras: Significant Issues	5-Apr-05	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released.	Full Release of responsive information
SOUTHCOM 1013-1019	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	26-Jun-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 1020-1030	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	23-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NAIC, NGIC	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 1031-1039	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	26-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations, intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding information under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 1040-1049	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	24-Aug-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS JTF-GTMO	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c). In particular, the withheld information pertains to the oversight of intelligence activities and details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 1050-1060	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	25-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations; intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources; and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a), (c), and (d) of Executive Order 13256. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 1061-1072	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	25-Jun-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. The Defense Intelligence Agency is withholding classified information under Exemption (b)(1), section 1.4(c) and under Exemption (b)(3) information exempted from disclosure by federal statutes, namely the following: 10 U.S.C. 424 to withhold DIA employee names, office names/symbols, phone numbers, and similar information, the release of which would reveal DIA's organizational structure, and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)) for information pertaining to intelligence sources and methods. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial

Page	Document Type	Title	Date	Classification	Agency	Consulting Agency	Declaration	Partial Denial/ Full Denial/Full Release
SOUTHCOM 1073-1083	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	8/25/2009	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest.	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 1084-1091	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	1-Oct-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS USCG ICC	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to current and future operations; to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources, and the details of a particular foreign operation. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Department of State information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to foreign government information and foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources. The Department of State considers the withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (d) of Executive Order 13256. The inability of our government to maintain confidentiality in its diplomatic exchanges would inevitably chill relations with other governments, and could reasonably be expected to damage U.S. national security by diminishing our access to vital sources of information. Release of information revealing confidential sources reasonably could be expected to risk the safety of those confidential sources and will harm United States relations in the world regarding relations with other countries. Failure to preserve the expected confidentiality could risk future access not only to the sources of the withheld information, but also to other who might provide sensitive information to U.S. officials that is important to U.S. national security interest. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)).	Partial Denial
SOUTHCOM 1092-1101	Intelligence Executive Highlights	Intelligence Executive Highlights	24-Sep-09	SECRET//NOFORN	SOUTHCOM	DIA, CIA, DOS, NGA	USSOUTHCOM has conducted a line-by-line review of this document and all reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of this document are being released. This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to military plans, weapons systems, or operations and intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods, human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (a) and (c) of Executive Order 13256. The Central Intelligence Agency withheld certain information pursuant to Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). Exemption (b)(1) applies to certain information that is classified pursuant to Section 1.4(c) of Executive Order 13526. Disclosure of this information reasonably could be expected to damage national security because it would reveal information concerning intelligence activities such as sources or methods. Exemption (b)(3) also applies to certain information because the information must be withheld pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3507 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403g) and section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C. § 3024 (formerly codified at 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1)). The National Geospatial Intelligence Agency information is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption (b)(1). Information pertaining to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources. In particular, the withheld information pertains to intelligence collection methods and human intelligence sources. The disclosure of this information could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security by revealing intelligence sources, methods and compromise the intelligence information collection mission effectiveness of the intelligence community. The withheld portions of this document are properly classified pursuant to section 1.4 (c) of Executive Order 13256.	Partial Denial