Document Description: This 8-page document is a NCS cable, dated May 4, 2006, and it bears the classification mark TOP SECRET. This cable consists of one-half page of distribution information and approximately 6 pages of text. The last page is almost entirely blank. This document is withheld in full based on exemptions b(1), b(2), and b(3).

The distribution information is withheld on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2), and b(3). The first half-page primarily consists of internal distribution information such as filing identifiers, routing codes, handling instructions, origination markings, and other internal administrative information which is protected from disclosure by exemption b(2). In addition, some of these markers and routing codes would disclose internal organizational data, the location of CIA facilities overseas, and other information that is properly withheld under exemptions b(1) and b(3), as described more fully below.

The entire document, including some of the administrative information described above, is also withheld on the basis of exemption b(1). This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and methods, as well as foreign relations and foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this information would reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. The document also reveals CIA cryptonyms, the location of CIA stations, the identities of CIA personnel, and foreign activities of the CIA. Disclosure of this information would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

For similar reasons, this document is exempt from disclosure under exemption b(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. This document contains information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, functions, and names that are properly withheld under exemption b(3), pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This document is a one-page email train discussing proposed courses of action in the context of a policy issue under consideration with the executive branch. The document is dated April 6, 2004 and bears the classification SECRET//SCI.

This document is withheld in its entirety based on FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3), and (b)(5).

The document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would reveal intelligence sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States government, whose disclosure reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

The document is also exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949.

The document is exempt in its entirety pursuant to exemption (b)(5). The document discusses a policy issue under consideration within the executive branch. It therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This document is a one-page email train between two CIA officers posing and answering follow-up questions to a previous conversation. The document is dated February 22, 2007 and bears the classification TOP SECRET//SCI.

This document is withheld in its entirety based on FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

The document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would reveal intelligence sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States government, whose disclosure reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

The document is also exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, these statements were made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interview subject. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

This document contains information relating to a statement that a witness made to the CIA Office of the Inspector General in connection with an investigation regarding, among other things, the location or potential location of relevant documents. The statement was made by the witness with the joint expectation that it would be held in confidence, and it has been held in confidence. The information is thus protected from disclosure pursuant to exemption (b)(5).

Similarly, the document contains information compiled for law enforcement purposes, the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to disclose the identity of a confidential source, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(7)(D).

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. Disclosure of this information would reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from people who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, this statement was made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. The document is therefore properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege. Finally, these handwritten notes reflect only the past impressions of the Interviewer, and do not represent the final report of the Interviewer or the Office of Inspector General. Thus, these notes are properly withheld in full pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This 9-page document consists handwritten notes from interviews by OIG investigators of a CIA officer. The document bears the classification TOP SECRET//SCI. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), and (b)(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. Disclosure of this information would reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities, and the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, this statement was made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege. Finally, these handwritten notes reflect only the past impressions of the Interviewer, and do not represent the final report of the Interviewer or the Office of Inspector General. Thus, these notes are properly withheld in full pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This 21-page document consists of a response prepared by a CIA officer, who was interviewed in an OIG investigation, to a draft OIG report and includes the excerpt from the draft OIG report to which the CIA officer responded. The document is dated March 12, 2007 and bears the classification marking TOP SECRET//SCI. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), and (b)(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. Disclosure of this information would reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities, and the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, this statement was made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the OIG Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the document are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege. Finally, the excerpt of the draft report does not represent the final report of the the Office of Inspector General. Thus, the draft report is properly withheld in full pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: Please refer to the document as released and as attached as an exhibit to the Hilton Declaration for a description of its contents.

The document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA Exemptions b(3) and b(6).

Exemption b(3) - This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption b(3). This document contains information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components that are specifically exempted from disclosure by section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C.A. § 403g (West Supp. 2008), and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption b(3).

Exemption b(6) - This document is withheld in part on the basis of Exemption b(6). The document contains information relating to a particular identifiable individual at the U.S. Department of Justice, as well as at the CIA, and the disclosure of which would constitute an unwarranted invasion of privacy. The public interest in disclosure of this information does not outweigh the harm to the individual whose privacy would be violated, and thus the information is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(7)(C) - This document contains information compiled for law enforcement purposes, the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The public interest in disclosure of this information does not outweigh the harm to the individual whose privacy would be violated, and thus the information is protected from disclosure by Exemption b(7)(C).

All meaningful, reasonably segregable portions of the document have been released.

Document Description: This document is an 8-page chart concerning certain detainees. The document indicates that it was last updated on February 20, 2003 and bears the classification TOP SECRET//SCI.

This document is withheld in its entirety based on FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and (b)(5).

The document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would reveal intelligence sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States government, whose disclosure reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

The document is also exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949.

The document is also exempt in its entirety pursuant to exemption (b)(5). Text within the chart describes the changing nature of the issue and suggests further action in a number of instances. This information therefore reveals policy issues under internal deliberations among government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

The first two pages contain internal filing and administrative information, and are withheld on the basis of exemptions b(2), and b(3). The pages primarily contain internal distribution information such as filing identifiers, origination markings, handling instructions, and other internal administrative information which is protected from disclosure by exemption b(2). In addition, some of these markers and routing codes would disclose internal organizational data, the name of CIA personnel, and other information that is properly withheld under exemptions b(1) and b(3), as explained below.

The three-page memorandum from the Office of Inspector General contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this information could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Disclosure of these portions of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

This document is also withheld in part on the basis of exemption b(5). The memorandum discusses policy issues under consideration within the executive branch, and indicates that further analysis and evaluation will take place. It therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to particular, identifiable individuals. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding certain individuals. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

All meaningful, reasonably segregable portions of the document have been released.

Document Description : This four-page document is an Interview Report of an interview with a CIA employee that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation. The document bears the classification SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, these statements were made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This five-page document consists of a one-page routing sheet, a one-page memorandum from the CIA Inspector General to the DCI, a two-page letter from the CIA Office of Inspector General to the Department of Justice, and a one-page filing sheet. The document is dated June 10, 2004 and bears the classification mark SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5) and b(6).

The first and last pages contain internal filing and administrative information, and are withheld on the basis of exemption b(3). The pages primarily contain internal distribution information such as filing identifiers, origination markings, handling instructions, and other internal administrative information which is protected from disclosure by exemption b(3). In addition, some of these markers and routing codes would disclose internal organizational data, the name of CIA personnel, and other information that is properly withheld under exemptions b(3), as explained above.

The memorandum from the Office of Inspector General to the DCI and the letter from the Office of Inspector General to DOJ both contain information that has been classified in part in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

This document is also exempt from disclosure by exemption b(5). The document contains information relating to intra-agency predecisional deliberations, including evaluations, opinions, and recommendations of CIA employees, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption b(5).

Finally, this document contains information relating to the name of an identifiable Department of Justice employee, the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The public interest in disclosure of this information does not outweigh the harm to the individual whose privacy would be violated, and thus the information is protected from disclosure by Exemption b(6).

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This two-page document is a memorandum for the record regarding a DOD interview that a CIA OIG employee attended. Although a portion of the document was originally marked SECRET, that information is no longer classified and the document as a whole is unclassified. This document is withheld in part on the basis of exemptions b(3), b(6), and b(7)(c).

Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to particular, identifiable individuals. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

All meaningful, reasonably segregable portions of the document have been released.

Document Description: This is a one-page memorandum for the record prepared by a CIA OIG employee, concerning a particular investigation and including a list of Interview Reports including the names of the interview subjects and the interview dates. The document is unclassified and is dated June 2, 2005. The document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(3), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document is exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c) and b(7)(d). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The document would reveal the identity of confidential sources used in the course of an investigation. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, the individuals listed in the document were interviewed under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This five-page document is an Interview Report of an interview with a particular individual that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation. The document bears the classification SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

Document Description: This one-page document is a memorandum for the record concerning a meeting between CIA OIG employees and other federal officers. The document is undated, though it indicates that the meeting took place on January 4, 2005, and bears the classification SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), and b(5).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements regarding the status of a particular investigation and would reveal the CIA OIG's deliberations about how to proceed. The document is therefore properly withheld as deliberative pursuant to exemption b(5).

Furthermore, this document reflects discussions between a Special Agent and Assistant United States Attorney regarding the progress of an administrative matter, and reveals the opinions and recommendations of federal prosecutors with respect to an inquiry from the Special Agent regarding, inter alia, contemplated interactions with potential criminal matter. This document is also pre-decisional because it records deliberations between the Special Agent and the AUSA prior to a final decision regarding the issues under discussion regarding the criminal matter. This document is therefore protected from disclosure under the deliberative process privilege and exemption (b)(5).

Finally, this document contains the impressions, conclusions, and opinions of a federal prosecutor with respect to an inquiry from a law enforcement agent regarding, inter alia, whether a particular matter rose to the level of a criminal violation. This document is therefore protected from disclosure under the attorney work product doctrine.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This nine-page document contains two Interview Reports of interviews with two CIA employees that were taken during the course of an OIG investigation, an attachment indicating one of the interview subjects had reviewed the report, and email trains involving an interview subject providing feedback on the report. The document is dated October 6, 2004 and bears the classification SECRET//SCI. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from people who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, these statements were made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, these reports are withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). Document Description: This six-page document is an Interview Report of an interview with a CIA employee that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation. The document bears the classification TOP SECRET//SCI. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, these statements were made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This document consists of a two-page Interview Report of an interview with a CIA employee that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation, and three pages of attachments indicating that the interview subject had reviewed the report. The document bears the classification TOP SECRET//SCI. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, these statements were made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

Document Description: This two-page document is an Interview Report of an interview with a CIA employee that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation. The document bears the classification SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, these statements were made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This one-page email concerns an investigation into an intelligence operation by the Office of the Inspector General. It bears the classification mark SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), and b(5).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal foreign activities of the United States Government and the identity of a CIA officer under cover. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, this document may be withheld in full under exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Rule 6(e) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure. This document records a conversation between a CIA OIG investigator and a DOJ prosecutor and would tend to reveal the identity of witnesses that testified before a grand jury, the strategy of the prosecution before that grand jury, and the target of that grand jury.

This document is also withheld in full on the basis of exemption b(5). This email consists of information reflecting attorney work product that was created by a law enforcement officer working at the direction of that attorney. In addition, the memorandum discusses prosecution strategy regarding a grand jury. It therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This document is a 5-page operations cable dated March 3, 2003 from a CIA officer to Headquarters relating to the interrogation program. It is classified SECRET. The cable includes information concerning the interrogation of Khalid Shaykh Muhammad. The cable also includes CIA organizational information, CIA filing information, locations of CIA facilities, and the names and/or identifying information of personnel engaged in counterterrorism operations.

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal intelligence sources, methods and activities. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Additionally, the document is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 because the document reflects internal organizational identifiers and data, as well as internal organizational communications methodologies and routing information.

Document Description : This document is a 3-page operations cable dated March 13, 2003 from a CIA officer to Headquarters relating to the interrogation program. It is classified SECRET. The cable includes information concerning the interrogation of Khalid Shaykh Muhammad. The cable also includes CIA organizational information, CIA filing information, locations of CIA facilities, and the names and/or identifying information of personnel engaged in counterterrorism operations.

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal intelligence sources, methods and activities. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

* * * * *

This document is withheld in its entirety because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can be reasonably segregated from the exempt information.

Document Description: This document is a 2-page operations cable dated March 13, 2003 from a CIA officer to Headquarters relating to the interrogation program. It is classified SECRET. The cable includes information concerning the interrogation of Khalid Shaykh Muhammad. The cable also includes CIA organizational information, CIA filing information, locations of CIA facilities, and the names and/or identifying information of personnel engaged in counterterrorism operations.

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal intelligence sources, methods and activities. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Additionally, the document is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 because the document reflects internal organizational identifiers and data, as well as internal organizational communications methodologies and routing information.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

This document is withheld in its entirety because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can be reasonably segregated from the exempt information.

Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal intelligence sources, methods and activities. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Additionally, the document is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 because the document reflects internal organizational identifiers and data, as well as internal organizational communications methodologies and routing information.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Document Description: This document is a 2-page operations cable dated March 24, 2003 from a CIA officer to Headquarters relating to the interrogation program. It is classified SECRET. The cable includes information concerning the interrogation of Khalid Shaykh Muhammad. The cable also includes CIA organizational information, CIA filing information, locations of CIA facilities, and the names and/or identifying information of personnel engaged in counterterrorism operations.

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal intelligence sources, methods and activities. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Additionally, the document is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 because the document reflects internal organizational identifiers and data, as well as internal organizational communications methodologies and routing information.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

* * * *

This document is withheld in its entirety because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can be reasonably segregated from the exempt information.

Document Description: This record is an audio tape of the interrogation of a detainee. It is classified TOP SECRET//SCI.

The record is withheld in its entirety on the basis of FOIA Exemptions (b)1 and (b)(3).

Exemption b(1) - This document is withheld in its entirety on the basis of Exemption b(1). This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended, and is protected from disclosure by exemption b(1) because it would reveal intelligence sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States government, whose disclosure reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security.

Exemption b(3) - This document is withheld in its entirety on the basis of Exemption b(3). This document contains information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components that are specifically exempted from disclosure by section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C.A. § 403g (West Supp. 2008), and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption b(3).

This document also contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that are specifically exempted from disclosure by section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, 50 U.S.C.A. § 403-1(i)(1) (West Supp. 2008) and section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949, as amended, 50 U.S.C.A. § 403g (West Supp. 2008), and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption b(3).

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.
